To be made ready for duty on the Porto Rico station the coast guard cadet training cutter Itasca is to receive a general overhauling at the de-Miss Madeira's School pot at Arundel Cove, near Baltimore, where she is expected to arrive this week. The Itasca, with the cadets from the Coast Guard Academy, at Fort pleted her summer cruise of instruction quarters ashore.

Having completed a cruise along the Alaskan coast and its long chain of islands, stretching well over toward Asia, the cutter Bear has returned to Asia, the cutter Bear has returned to Nome, via Unalaska and Pribilof. The time of the Bear's remaining in Alaskan waters is growing short, but she will not leave until the last of the commercial ships has started south. This will be in the latter part of this month or early in November, unless icomskes necessary an earlier departure for the south. The Bear is now the only vessel of the coast guard fleet in Alaskan waters.

Responding to a notification that the schooner Samuel B. Hubbard had been abandoned off Cape Cod, and, waterlogged, was a serious menace to the safety of shipping, the cutter Gresham from the Boston station started in search of the vessel. Before the cutter located the derelict a passing towboat picked it up. The Gresham met the tug as she came into Boston bay with the abandoned schooner.

A board consisting of Engineer-inchief C. S. McAllister, First Lieutenant of Engineers Urban Harvey and Constructor Walton has been appointed to examine for promotion Second Lieutenant of Engineers G. W. David and Second Lieutenant of Engineers L. J. Ker. Nome, via Unalaska and Pribilof. The Retirement of Capt. Owen.

Captain of Engineers F. E. Owen retire sfrom the service today, and this week's orders announce his being placed on the retired list. Capt. Owen retires on account of ill health, as he would not have reached the age limit until 1921. Capt. Owen entered the service as a third lieutenant of engineers June 6, 1876, and reached the grade of captain July 1, 1908. He stands second in the list of captains of engineers and has seen active service on all stations, including nearly three years in Alaskan waters and the arctic. He also saw service in the Spanish-American war. American war.
Orders for the week are as follows:
Senior Capt. F. M. Dunwoody, pra-paratory orders to command New York

lages and few big towns.

A bit of a frame building, half waiting room and half quarters for the ticket agent and telegraph operator, marks the point where through trains stop twice a day. There is a wide, unpaved street which stretches away for two or three blocks and becomes a timed october 10, 1915.

heavenward with their modest spires. Beyond are the great wheat fields, stretching away into infinity.

The flatness of the whole landscape, the absence of a break in the horizon as far as the eye can see in any direction, is what impresses itself upon the visitor.

as far as the eye can see in any direction, is what impresses itself upon the visitor.

He may get into conversation with a native-born son of this region, one who has dwelt here from birth and gazed out upon this unbroken landscape. The visitor may say something of experiences in the outside world. The native Kansan is almost sure to ask one thing—the thing that to him is the most wonderful of them all. He will inquire if the visitor has ever seen a mountain.

Like a thousand other tiny towns in the great western wheat lands, Tampa dozes eleven months in the year, while the millions of level acres germinate and bring forth the delicate green of the springing wheat that finally rises and overspreads the plain like a golden flood.

Then the people of Tampa awaken and go forth like troops of treasure seekers to gather the wealth that has come up from the ground. No one is sacred from labor when harvest time comes in Kansas, and the army that goes forth to conquer the crops is one of the strangest aggregations of humanity in the world. Here come the unemployed from all parts of the United States—men from every trade and occupation—to be eagerly seized and impressed into service by the farmers waiting at the station. Here come college boys in need of vacation money, homesteaders working their way westward, hoboes eager to earn the high wages that will insure them long days of vagrant idleness. On these breezy plains, under the glowing sky that has turned the earth to gold, all of this heterogeneous crew is fused into one great laboring unit, moving to the rhythm of its own effort and inspired by the single idea of reaping the harvest of golden grain.

Ordered to Arundel Cove for Repairs

in the last part of September, and the twenty cadets, who had been under instruction aboard the Itasca, took up quarters ashore.

Under orders from the department Capt. Billard, superintendent of the academy, turned the command of the Itasca over to Lleut. Crapster, who is bringing her to the Chesapeake. As soon as the overhauling of the Itasca is completed she will sail for San Juan, to relieve the cutter Seminole, now doing duty there. On relief the Seminole will return to her station at Wilmington, N. C. The cutter Algonquin, the Porto Rico station ship, is at Arundel Cove, having extensive repairs made.
